

Candy Christophe, LCSW, LAC

LCSW | Addiction Counselor | Covenant Advocate

At Year 32 of marriage, Candy Christophe and her husband were 72 hours from signing the property settlement that would end their marriage—while she was still serving in ministry. From the outside everything looked strong. Behind the scenes, their covenant was breaking.

Today Candy speaks with rare authority as a licensed clinical therapist and ministry leader whose own covenant was restored just before legal dissolution. She addresses the issues quietly damaging marriages in ministry—pressure, betrayal, burnout, hidden struggles, and relational drift—because a thriving ministry should never cost you your marriage.

Ministry & Marriage

You Can Have Both™: Ministry & Marriage.

Protect the Covenant So the Calling Can Last.

Signature Keynotes

▶ When the Calling Is Heavy AND the Marriage Is Breaking

Why leaders serving others can unintentionally lose connection at home—and how to restore covenant before it collapses.

▶ Restoring Trust After Betrayal

A courageous conversation about adultery, secrecy, and broken trust, and the path toward healing and restoration.

▶ The Silent Crisis in Ministry Marriages

Why many leaders suffer privately while serving publicly—and how churches can protect covenant before crisis.
