Ministry

We were 72 hours from divorce while still serving. Ministry leaders—you don't have to lose your marriage to answer God's call.

Because ministry should heal, not hurt the ones called to lead it.

AUDIENCE – MINISTRY LEADERS, PASTORS & FAITH COUPLES

For pastors, ministers, and ministry couples who pour out for everyone else while quietly running empty themselves. Candy Christophe brings a message every servant leader needs to hear before it's too late: Your calling should not cost your covenant.

THE CRISIS

Behind pulpits and praise, many leaders are privately breaking.

- 42% of pastors have considered leaving ministry in the past year.
- 65% of ministry marriages show signs of chronic strain.
- 1 in 3 spouses say ministry has hurt their home life.

Leaders are preaching grace while drowning in guilt, carrying everyone's burden while losing their own peace.

The work is holy—but the weariness is human.

THE INTERVENTION

Candy Christophe, licensed clinical therapist, ministry mentor, and author of Ministry – Spiritually Strategic™, helps pastors and leaders restore what ministry unintentionally steals.

Through her You Can Have Both™ framework, she equips ministry couples to:

- Heal emotionally and spiritually from leadership fatigue.
- Reconnect marriage and mission.
- Lead from overflow—not depletion.

Candy's redemption story—72 hours from divorce to divine restoration—proves that God still heals leaders, not just the led.
